Please re-read c92 // Comments on c93

Hey there! Sorry we were so late with August's chapter... Thankfully, there was no chapter for the month September as the magazine was on break. We were experiencing a major shortage of volunteers for a number of reasons, but thanks to another series of ours getting an anime adaption, we have more or less been able to replenish our ranks, so to speak!

However, if you are interested in helping with this series, we always welcome more help (with SFX lettering, cleaning, redrawing specifically).

More importantly...

We messed up the severity of two lines in c92 which caused a lot of readers to think things were more grave than they were stated in the Japanese. We apologize for the oversight, and encourage you to re-read the chapter!
