Release Schedule

Hello. We noticed a lot of reader comments that seem to suggest that a decent handful of people aren't aware of the release schedule of Otoyo in Japan, so here it is!

The series is released each month except for September and January. During these months, the magazine Otoyo is serialized in takes a break.

For September, usually nothing special happens, but for January, the author often uses the time to create a oneshot which she releases instead of Otoyo for February, causing a 2-month gap.

As such, the author never goes on hiatus per se, but she does often use both of these months to do a number things, whether it be fan events, oneshots, extra long Otoyo chapters, travel, research, whatever.
