Otoyo release schedule

What happened, how things are going to go now

Last year in December, we promised that the series would be back late April/early March. However, there have been several new developments since then.

What happened?

The first issue of the new magazine Otoyo moved to actually featured a new Shirley chapter from Mori-sensei instead of Otoyo.

If you are interested in reading it, you can download it from our website: tsundere.services.

Secondly, we realized that the new magazine was actually bimonthly (that is, releases every other month). So, the second issue came out this month and thankfully, it had Otoyo this time.

Future release schedule

Since the magazine is bimonthly, this means that the next chapter will be out in late August. We'll release some time after that (this chapter, it was a few days), depending on the difficulty of the work.

Either way, you can expect mostly bi-monthly releases unless Mori-sensei decides to release something else.
